

Choosing your new scooter or powered wheelchair checklist

Consider the following factors when deciding which product is right for you

- Your height and weight
- Your weekly rental budget
- How far you typically travel
- If your disability affects your ability to get on and off the product
- Whether you have full use of your hands for controls
- If you'd need to travel on public roads
- If there are any high kerbs to negotiate on your typical journeys
- If there are any steep hills to get up and down
- How much shopping you are likely to carry
- If you'd need to get the product into a car
- Whether there is somewhere safe to keep it at home where you can charge it
- Whether you'd want to use it to get around your home
- If there are any additions or accessories you might need
- Whether you think your condition may change over the course of your lease
- If you have any step-free access into and around your home
